Re: United States v. Ismael Canales, 11 Cr. 676 (RJS)
Motion for Reduction of Sentence under 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c) (2)

Dear Judge Sullivan:

I write in support of Mr. Canales's motion for a reduction of sentence pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and U.S.S.G. § 1B1.10. Under Amendment 782 to the Sentencing Guidelines, made retroactive by the Sentencing Commission, see U.S.S.G. § 1B1.10(d) (November 1, 2014, edition), the Guidelines range applicable to Mr. Canales's case has been lowered to 121 to 151 months. Probation has concluded that Mr. Canales is eligible for a reduction of his sentence. By letter dated August 7, 2015 (the "Gov't Ltr."), the Government indicated that it does not oppose a reduction of sentence for Mr. Canales. Under all of the circumstances set forth more fully below, a sentence of 121 months' imprisonment, the bottom of the amended Guidelines range, is appropriate at this time.

Although the requested Order reducing the defendant's sentence cannot result in Mr. Canales's release from custody before November 1, 2015, see id. § 1B1.10(e)(1), the Guidelines explicitly authorize the Court to enter such an Order anytime after November 1, 2014. See id. § 1B1.10, comment. (n.6). I therefore ask the Court to reduce Mr. Canales's sentence to 121 months at this time.

Hon. Richard J. Sullivan
United States District Judge

Re: United States v. Ismael Canales, 11 Cr. 676 (RJS)
Motion for Reduction of Sentence under 18 U.S.C. §
3582(c)(2)

A. Background

Your Honor sentenced Mr. Canales on July 2, 2012 to a term of 150 months, one month below the bottom of the Guidelines range. At that time, the Court found that Mr. Canales's total offense level was 33 and he was in criminal history category II, with a corresponding Guidelines range of 151 to 188 months.

Amendment 782 to the Guidelines, made retroactive by the Commission on November 1, 2014, reduces the base offense level for most drug offenses by two. Under the Amendment, Mr. Canales would face a reduction in his base offense level from 34 to 32. See U.S.S.G. § 2D1.1(c)(5) (November 1, 2014, edition), which with applicable adjustments would reduce his total offense level to 31. At offense level 31 and criminal history category I, the amended range is 121 to 151 months' imprisonment.

On July 7, 2015, the Court appointed the Federal Defenders to represent Mr. Canales in connection with his motion for resentencing. On July 7, the Government indicated that it does not oppose a resentencing in this case to a term within the amended Guidelines range. For the reasons that follow, the Court should reduce Mr. Canales's term of imprisonment to 121 months' imprisonment, the bottom of the amended range. See U.S.S.G. § 1B1.10(b)(2)(A) (court authorized to "reduce the defendant's term of imprisonment . . . to a term that is . . . the minimum of the amended guideline range . . .").

B. The Court should reduce Mr. Canales's Sentence to 121 months, the bottom of the amended range

To determine the extent of a sentencing reduction under § 3582(c)(2) for an eligible defendant, a court "shall consider the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)" as well as "public safety consideration[s]" (including "the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or the community that may be posed by a reduction") and the defendant's "post-sentencing conduct." U.S.S.G. § 1B1.1, comment. (n.1(B)). These considerations warrant a sentence of 121 months, the bottom of the amended range.

Re: United States v. Ismael Canales, 11 Cr. 676 (RJS)
Motion for Reduction of Sentence under 18 U.S.C. §
3582(c) (2)

The BOP Progress report prepared for Mr. Canales shows that he has made good, productive use of his time in custody. Prior to his sentencing, he completed the Drug Abuse Education Course. Following his sentencing, he has completed courses related to his GED, commercial driving, career skills, planning and budgeting, computer skills, Spanish, parenting, stress management, and victim impact awareness. See Exh. A (certificates of completion and transcript). Mr. Canales has served his sentence at FCI McDowell in West Virginia, FCI Otisville in New York, FCI Danbury in Connecticut, and recently was transferred to Fort Dix. A program review, issued while he was at FCI Danbury in June 2014, is attached as Exhibit B. It indicates that Mr. Canales has no disciplinary history while serving his sentence. See Exh. B at 3. We do not yet have a copy of his most recent program review from Fort Dix to submit to Your Honor. As the government discusses in its August 7, 2015 letter to the Court, Mr. Canales was sanctioned for an incident that occurred at the MCC prior to his sentencing. But, as the government notes, "[c]onsidering the nature and age of this incident, and in light of the fact that the defendant has not been subject to any disciplinary sanctions since that time, . . . [Mr. Canales's] prison disciplinary records do not counsel against a sentence reduction." Gov't Ltr. at 4. Furthermore, the presence of the gun was factored into Mr. Canales's original disposition and sentence, and "there are no additional or new concerns with respect to violence." Id.

There is nothing about Mr. Canales's case that would suggest that he presents a risk to public safety such that a reduction should not be granted and there is nothing about his post-sentencing conduct that would make a sentence reduction inappropriate, see U.S.S.G. § 1B1.10, comment. (n.1(B)). As the Court noted in its Statement of Reasons following the imposition of a sentence one month below the bottom of Mr. Canales's original guidelines range, Mr. Canales was cooperative upon arrest and informed the authorities about the location of the gun, he has significant family support, and he has demonstrated sincere remorse for his actions. The Court also noted that Mr. Canales's longest previous sentence was twenty five days in custody. In light of all of these facts and circumstances, the defense submits that reducing Mr. Canales's sentence to 121 months is appropriate at this time.

Re: United States v. Ismael Canales, 11 Cr. 676 (RJS)
Motion for Reduction of Sentence under 18 U.S.C. §
3582(c) (2)

C. Conclusion

In reducing the offense level for drug offenses and making the reduction retroactive, the Sentencing Commission indicated that one of the primary reasons for the amendment was to reduce the federal prison population and alleviate overcrowding. In addition, the Commission found that the reduction was not likely to jeopardize public safety, citing its own studies that showed "no statistically significant difference" in recidivism rates for those persons whose sentences were reduced by the retroactive amendments to crack cocaine sentences in 2007 compared to a control group that served their entire sentence. See U.S.S.G. App. C, Amend. 782, Reason for Amendment (2014).

The longest Mr. Canales had served in jail prior to his arrest on this case was twenty five days. Given his excellent post-sentencing conduct, this is precisely the case for which this amendment was intended. For all of the above reasons, including the Government's failure to show cause why Mr. Canales's sentence should not be reduced, the Court should reduce Mr. Canales's sentence to a term of 121 months' imprisonment under the authority of 18 U.S.C. § 3582(c)(2) and U.S.S.G. § 1B1.10.
